Bay Firemen Start Doll, Toy Fund

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer

Do you have any dolls at your house that have lost their lustre, need new hairdos, have no clothes or perhaps have lost a limb?

Do you have a wagon that someone has grown too big for, or a tricycle discarded with a broken wheel? How about games no longer played, but still perfectly usable?

Do you ever think about a child somewhere who will have no Christmas at all?

Bay St. Louis firemen do. They think about it a lot and just recently, decided to do something about it. Starting last week, Santa's workshop can be found in Valena C. Jones building on Old Spanish Trail, where youthful firemen and senior citizens are industriously working so that on Christmas day, some children less fortunate than others, can be made happier and know that there is a Santa Claus, after all.

Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Richard Fayard has announced the opening of a Doll and Toy Fund program, under the auspices of the Bay regular and volunteer fire departments, through which toys and Christmas gifts as well as Christmas food baskets will be given to needy families of the community.

Fayard said although the program is starting late in the season, fire department personnel were anxious to get the program underway this year with the hope of the Doll and Toy Fund developing into an annual tradition.

Community residents can bring donations of dolls, toys and games or any articles appropriate for children's gifts to the fire station on Old Spanish Trail, which is open and manned 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Firemen will repair, paint and fix up donated articles at the station for later giving. The Senior Citizens group, located in the same building, has agreed enthusiastically to assist the youthful firemen in toy repairs, and ladies of the group will sew and dress dolls for little girls, Fayard said.

"We will gratefully accept any toy, however damaged," Fayard stated. "If it's possible to repair it, we'll take it."

Monetary donations will be put in a special Doll and Toy Fund at Hancock Bank, to be used for materials to repair toys. Checks should be made out to the Doll and Toy Fund, Fayard stressed, not the fire department.

Firemen are also appealing to area Boy and Girl Scouts for help in collecting canned goods and foodstuffs to go into Christmas baskets for Christmas eve distribution. Donations of either food or money will be accepted until December 23, Fayard explained, so that a ham or turkey can be included in each basket.

Anyone wishing to donate articles but unable to get them to the station may call 487-4734 (volunteer fire phone) for a pickup service.

Donations have already been received for the Toy Fund. As soon as he heard about the program, a city department head gave three bicycles to the fire department, each in need of repair but all very usable and gratefully received by the surrogate Santas.

In explaining the reason for starting the Doll and Toy Fund, Fayard, the father of four, said, "Every child should get at least one toy for Christmas and every family should have a Christmas dinner."

"We won't have time to do very much this year, but we plan to start collecting about July for next year so that by Christmas NO child will be left out."

Roberts Charged With Manslaughter

A Bay St. Louis man was arrested and charged with manslaughter in the December 6 shooting death of Leroy Dahl, Jr. in Bay St. Louis.

According to Bay Police Chief William Carbonette, Dahl was fatally shot by Cecil A. Roberts as Dahl and Roberts' 19-year-old son, Carl, were scuffling at the corner of Ballentine St. and Old Spanish Trail about 6:45 p.m. that evening.

In a later statement to the police, Roberts said he and his wife Claudia were driving in their own car on Dunbar Ave. toward their Spanish Acres home, following their son Carl and his wife in another automobile, when Dahl passed the two cars at what Roberts described as an excessive speed.

Roberts, who had been approved in July by the Mayor for inclusion on the Bay auxiliary police force, but was not on duty the night of the shooting incident, pursued Dahl's car to Ballentine and Old Spanish Trail. There he asked to see Dahl's driver's license, he said, and was in turn asked by Dahl to show his identification. After showing his auxiliary police card, Roberts instructed Dahl to follow him to the city police station. After returning to his car, Roberts stated that he realized that his son, who had also stopped, and Dahl were fighting on the ground. As he attempted to break up the fight, Roberts said a .38 calibre pistol he was wearing in a belt holster felt as though it was falling out of the holster.

When he grabbed the revolver it discharged, Roberts told Carbonette, striking Dahl in the chest. A neighbor witnessing the incident summoned police and an ambulance to the scene.

Dahl was taken by Riemann ambulance to Hancock General Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Roberts was taken to a Gulf

Coast jail where he was charged with manslaughter and held under $25,000 bond. He was later released on a property bond pending a hearing later this month.

A plumber by trade, Roberts had been a resident of Bay St. Louis about four years. Although he noted on his application for the auxiliary police force that he had worked for the Natchez police from 1967 to 1968, a check with Natchez Police Chief J. T. Robinson revealed that Roberts had never worked for either the Natchez police or the Adams county sheriff.

Bay Auxiliary Chief Harold Heine said Roberts had never worked in Bay St. Louis on patrol with regular police, but had assisted in traffic control at local football games. He has been suspended indefinitely from the force.

Dahl, who lived on Blue Meadow Road was the son of Leroy, Sr. and Mrs. Annie Dahl, all Bay St. Louis natives.

Constable Sam Perniciaro and Hancock Sheriff's Deputy James Ladner assisted in investigating the incident.

The bodies of a man and woman, found Friday brutally shot to death and left on a Pearlinton road, were identified late Monday night by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D. C., after local authorities had sent fingerprints of the pair to the Washington bureau.

According to FBI records, the man was identified as William Earl Mulzey, 37, of Atlanta, Ga. The red-haired, 34-year-old woman was identified as Tracey Johnson of Fulton County, Ga. who was also known to use three aliases: Linda Carter, Charlene Davis and Billie Tracey Lovell. Both Mulzey and the Johnson woman had lengthy police records, according to Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, although he did not divulge any details of past arrests or convictions.

The two bodies were discovered about 2:45 p.m. Friday, lying in a shallow ditch beside the Logtown Road, a short distance from Highway 604 by Mrs. E. L. Gilbert, who reported the discovery to Coast Electric Power Company employees working nearby. Milton Henley, Coast Electric foreman, called the Hancock sheriff's office.

Investigating deputies Lathon Garriga and James Ladner found the partially-clad body of the man lying face down in a few inches of rainwater and the woman, also partially-clad, half-sitting in the ditch, facing the roadway. Mulzey had been shot five times on the right side of his head and neck with a small calibre pistol. Powder burns on his face indicated that he had been shot at close range. The Johnson woman had been shot three times behind her left ear, apparently with a different and larger calibre gun.

Neither body bore any identification other than the name "Bill" tattooed on the man's left arm. Robbery was ruled out as an incentive for the murders, Sheriff Ladner said. Mulzey had $68 in his pocket and the Johnson woman was wearing several rings and a gold pendant, as well as $6 in bills, hidden in her underclothes.

There were no other signs of violence on the bodies and the absence of blood stains on the ground near the bodies indicated to police authorities that the couple had been shot elsewhere and brought to Hancock County, Ladner said.

Harrison County sheriff's department, Mississippi Highway Patrol detectives, New Orleans police and Jefferson Parish authorities were called in to assist in the investigation. A coroner's jury, empaneled by Hancock coroner Emile Piazza, ruled death by gunshot wounds by parties unknown. The two bodies were taken to Riemann Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis for further investigation and fingerprinting by Highway Safety Patrol investigators T. P. Naylor, Joseph Price and Robert Parker.

Later the same evening, the bodies were taken to Riemann Funeral Home in Gulfport for autopsies by Gulfport pathologist Dr. William D. Atchison.

A number of persons were interviewed at the funeral home over the weekend attempting to identify the bodies. Tuesday Sheriff Ladner spoke to relatives of the dead woman in Georgia regarding disposition of the body, but by late Tuesday he said he still had not received any communication from relatives of Mulzey.

Ladner said Tuesday he was told by other authorities that Mulzey, who was employed by an Atlanta jewelry store, was last seen by store employees about 2 p.m. December 7, the day before the two murder victims were found in Hancock County. Relatives of the Johnson woman could shed no light on her association with Mulzey, Ladner revealed, nor could they furnish any information on the dead man.

Investigation continues into the cause, location and other details of the double murder, which one of the investigating authorities termed "obviously a gangland slaying."

Report Given On Petition Signatures

Approximately 300 signatures have been obtained on a petition requesting Bay St. Louis officials to call for an election on the council-manager form of government, according to E. J. Marengo, chairman of the project.

At a meeting Tuesday night at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce office, Marengo told committee members that he hopes to have enough signatures by January 15, 1973 in order to present it to Mayor Warren Carver.

Marengo added that he was receiving full cooperation from the International City Management Association in trying to get the proposal adopted.

"I am encouraged by the response we have received," Marengo said, "and I am confident we can obtain enough signatures to call the election." Between 600 and 700 signatures (20 percent of the qualified voters in Bay St. Louis) are needed.

Marengo also announced that a program informing people about the council-manager form of government would begin as soon as enough signatures are obtained. "Our primary interest now is to present the petition to the city. The campaign to get the people to vote for the proposal will begin after the election date is set," he stated.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has already endorsed the council-manager election and the committee is now working on endorsements from other civic organizations.

Those attending the meeting Tuesday were Mrs. Margaret Shadoin, Norton Haas Sr., Nicholas Haas, Morris Miller, George di Benedetto, James Wimlish, Mrs. Marion Oiestad, Jack McComiskey, Mrs. Sylvia McComiskey and Mrs. Valerie Marengo.

A meeting of the committee has been set for Dec. 19 at 6:30 p.m. at the Chamber office.

Car, Train Collide

A Bay St. Louis man narrowly escaped injury Saturday morning when his stalled automobile was struck by a train on the Washington St. railroad crossing.

Charles Joseph, 215 Sycamore St., told police officer Alvin Favre that he neither saw nor heard the approaching Louisville and Nashville train as he attempted to drive across the tracks, proceeding south on Washington St. Joseph maintained that the heavy fog which had hung over the coast area for several days prevented him from seeing the train until he was on the tracks. The car stalled and before Joseph could get out, the train engine struck the front end, dragging the vehicle several feet and turning it around in the opposite direction.

Although the automobile was heavily damaged Joseph was uninjured. Washington Street traffic was stalled for almost an hour until the track could be cleared and the train could proceed. The incident happened at 10:50 a.m.

Assisting in the investigation was Auxiliary Patrolman Albert Blehl III.

Two Arrested For Marijuana Possession

Two Bay St. Louis youths were arrested by Waveland Police officer Eugene Hughes and charged with possession of marijuana after they were stopped for a traffic violation Sunday night about 11 p.m.

Hughes stopped Truman Schultz, Jr., 20, and Charles Jeff Debenport, 18, at the intersection of Conrad Lane and Beach Blvd. after following the vehicle they were riding in for some distance on the beach drive. Schultz, 309 Citizen St., was additionally charged with speeding. Both men were booked at the county jail with a $325 bond for Schultz and $400 bond for Debenport.

A hearing in Waveland city court, originally set for December 12, has been continued until January 4.

Drive Underway For Academy Buildings

A fund-raising campaign to finance improvements to two buildings which will house Our Lady's Academy is now underway according to an announcement from Michael D. Haas, overall chairman of the Special Committee on the Academy.

Goal of the drive has been set at $125,000 and Norton Haas Sr. has been named General Fund chairman.

The improvement program includes selected minimal reconiditioning of classrooms and administrative space in the existing Saint Joseph Academy gymnasium. Work on that project will also entail air conditioning, lighting, painting and finishes.

The second part of the program involves total reconditioning of Saint Mary's building now located on the Our Lady of the Gulf complex. Improvements will provide five new classrooms, administrative space, rest rooms, air conditioning and lighting. The outside of the building will be completely remodeled (see photo).

Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf and founder and principal of Our Lady's Academy, said that this improvement program is "an important step toward providing Christian education to the young ladies of our community."

Our Lady's Academy, founded in 1971, now uses many of the facilities at St. Stanislaus High School. In addition to attending some of the classes at SSC, Academy students make use of its library, resource center, and language laboratory, and are invited to join the school's band.

"With the continued cooperation of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart and the generosity of the people in this community, Our Lady's Academy can continue to carry on the educational traditions established by the Sisters of St. Joseph."

Members of the fund-raising committee include Dr. Frank L. Schmidt, George di Benedetto and Dr. A. K. Martinovich Jr.

Fog Causes Accidents

A constant, heavy fog hanging over the Gulf Coast area for almost a week was attributed as the major cause of an excessive number of highway 90 traffic accidents in Hancock County within the past few days.

State Highway Safety Patrolman James Woodfin reported five accidents occurring within an hour early Friday morning at the West end of the Bay bridge.

Although no injuries resulted from those accidents, three persons were hurt, two seriously, in a two-car collision shortly after midnight Saturday at the intersection of Highway 90 and Lower Bay Road.

According to investigating officer Woodfin, Wesley McFarland, 19, of Bay St. Louis, was driving East on the highway when his car was struck by an automobile coming out of Lower Bay Road. The driver of the car, Terrell Ladner, 27, an Ansley resident, sustained multiple cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries.

Ladner and McFarland were taken by ambulance to Hancock General Hospital for emergency treatment as was Dean Wagner, 20, a passenger in McFarland's car. Wagner was treated and later released.

McFarland was transferred to Gulfport Memorial Hospital with a crushed leg and kneecap. He was listed in good condition Wednesday following surgery.

Ladner was cited by the highway patrolman for failure to yield right of way.

In another two-car pile up Monday at noon, three persons were injured in the accident which occurred at the intersection of U.S. Highways 90 and 603.

Robert Begue, 64-year-old Waveland resident, was traveling West on Highway 90 and had stopped for a traffic light when his car was struck in the rear by a 1971 Ford driven by Ureno Alvarez, Washington, D.C.

Begue was taken to Hancock General Hospital with a possible back injury and was later admitted. Alvarez and his wife, a passenger in the car, were also both treated at the hospital, he for a knee injury and she for a deep forehead cut. Five young children in the Alvarez vehicle were not injured, Woodfin said. The highway patrolman cited Alvarez for following too closely.

Damage to both automobiles was estimated at between $200 to $300.

Junior Auxiliary Holds Meeting

Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary held its monthly meeting Dec. 4 in the conference room at the Hancock General Hospital. Guest speaker Al Toler, Southern Regional Director for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., gave a brief background on how St.

Jude was founded and the many medical achievements that have been made since its beginning.

All of the hospital services are free of charge to all of its patients regardless of the ability to pay, even lodging for parents if necessary.

When you least expect it a great Christmas present may look you in the eye.

How many times have you looked and looked for just the right Christmas present and not been able to find it? Then—when you least expect it—there it is! The perfect gift. It's a good feeling. And it's a good time to have BankAmericard® along. Because merchants almost everywhere think of BankAmericard as money. So whether you're looking for gifts for the kids, ornaments for the tree or an extra-special something for an extra-special someone, remember to carry your BankAmericard with you. It's a great way to bring together all the things that help make Christmas, Christmas.

Think of it as Christmas money.

ALTAR GUILD

Our Lady of the Gulf Altar Guild met last Thursday afternoon in the Parish Hall with Mrs. Ivan Bradford, president, conducting the business session.

Very Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor Our Lady of the Gulf Church, discussed the new method of religious instructions for school children and Rev. Daniel Gallagher, associate pastor, showed movies of Ireland.

Mrs. Bradford was elected to represent the Guild on the Parish Council.

Following the business session members held their annual Christmas party with Mesdames Bradford, Lucille Weeks and Frank LaRosa as hostesses.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Our Lady of the Gulf students will present their annual Christmas program under the direction of Mrs. John McKenna, choral director, in St. Joseph's Memorial Hall December 19 following the 8:30 a.m. Mass. All parents, children and friends are invited.

A Christmas party for students will be held in O.L.G. cafeteria immediately after the program.

Classes will be dismissed for the holidays following the party and will resume January 3.

Adoré Shottle

When the announcement was made by the Mammonites in D.C. that states, cities and municipalities would soon be getting federal revenue-sharing funds, elected officials everywhere hailed the importance of this move as the salvation for the financial woes besetting all communities.

Coming on top of this was the fact that the officials would receive their checks by November 1. Coincidentally, this came just prior to the national elections.

However, November 1 came and went and local officials made an estimated 13 trips each day to the P.O. Like a young maiden waiting for the handsome travelling salesman to return, they never gave up hope.

Lo and behold, the great election day arrived and we all know what happened...incumbents were swept back into office and local officials were still looking for the checks when the dust cleared.

With the passing of Thanksgiving, one official was heard to remark, "Well, it seems as though we weren't the only ones to get the bird."

However, to cliché an old phrase, "hope springs eternal" and they kept reassuring themselves and others that surely the federal government hadn't forgotten their promise and any day now....

Finally, like a sleeping bear waking up after a winter's sleep, someone in D.C. decided that perhaps they had better make an announcement to keep the natives from getting restless.

So they did. They announced that there had been a cut in the revenue sharing funds and that each group was getting approximately half of what was expected. Of course, they hastened to add, the second half would come next year.

To say the least, the news unsettled a few officials but they looked forward with eagerness to Uncle Sam's Christmas present.

However, Santa came a little early and delivered the checks this week and the singing of Christmas carols could be heard in courthouses and city halls throughout Mississippi.

Now comes the big question. When will we get the second half? Perhaps in time for Groundhog Day? Or Abraham Lincoln's Birthday?

May we make a suggestion. Perhaps the Mammonites could dress as big bunnies and deliver the next checks in person...on Easter Sunday.

Think of the headlines. PENNIES FROM THE POOKA. OR BUNDLES FROM THE BUNNIES. How about COINS FROM THE COTTONTAILS?

We are sure of one thing. The officials WILL get more revenue sharing money.

In 1976. To celebrate the 200th anniversary of our country.

And before the next national elections.

BETTER HIGHWAYS FOR MISSISSIPPI

Dr. K. P. George, professor of Civil Engineering at the University of Mississippi, has proven that one of the primary theories on which American highways have been built for 50 years is not entirely accurate. With funds, initially from the Mississippi Highway Department, the Ole Miss professor has shown that the "concave phenomenon" of soil cement is not entirely accurate. The theory which is concerned with the physical properties of soil cement, a mixture of soil and cement used in the construction of most highways, has been considered in the construction of highways since 1926.

MUSIC PROGRAM

This year more than 75 voices in eight choirs will combine forces to present the largest musical undertaking ever attempted by the First Baptist Church.

The program, under the leadership of Ronnie Hogue, minister of music, will feature three children's choirs, four youth and the Church Sanctuary choirs. Accompanists will be Mrs. Glendal Sallers at the organ and Mrs. Toy Tedford at the piano.

The program, entitled "Christmas Through the Ages," will be reminiscent of Christmas from Christ's birth to the present. It will be held in the Sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, 141 Main Street at 7 p.m., December 17. The public is invited.

Police Report

Bay St. Louis police responded to 57 calls during the period from December 6-December 13.

Two shotguns were stolen Dec. 7 from a residence at 105 Autin Lane. J.J. Monahan, owner of the house, reported that entry was made by removal of an air conditioner from one of the windows.

The front window of the Western Auto store on N. Beach Blvd. was broken Dec. 8 but nothing was reported missing.

Police investigated a total of six two-vehicle collisions during this period but no injuries resulted from these accidents.

If you drive during the holidays, remember—drinking and driving don't mix. Drive carefully so you can enjoy 1973.

Fog Causes Accidents

A constant, heavy fog hanging over the Gulf Coast area for almost a week was attributed as the major cause of an excessive number of highway traffic accidents in Hancock County within the past few days.

State Highway Safety Patrolman James Woodfin reported five accidents occurring within an hour early Friday morning at the West end of the Bay bridge.

Although no injuries resulted from those accidents, three persons were hurt, two seriously, in a two-car collision shortly after midnight Saturday at the intersection of Highway 90 and Lower Bay Road.

According to investigating officer Woodfin, Wesley McFarland, 19, of Bay St. Louis, was driving East on the highway when his car was struck by an automobile coming out of Lower Bay Road. The driver of the car, Terrel Ladner, 27, an Ansley resident, sustained multiple cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries.

Ladner and McFarland were taken by ambulance to Hancock General Hospital for emergency treatment as was Dean Wagner, 20, a passenger in McFarland's car. Wagner was treated and later released.

McFarland was transferred to Gulfport Memorial Hospital with a crushed leg and kneecap. He was listed in good condition Wednesday following surgery.

Ladner was cited by the highway patrolman for failure to yield right of way.

In another two-car pile up Monday at noon, three persons were injured in the accident which occurred at the intersection of U.S. Highways 90 and 603.

Robert Begue, 64-year-old Waveland resident, was traveling West on Highway 90 and had stopped for a traffic light when his car was struck in the rear by a 1971 Ford driven by Ureno Alvarez, Washington, D.C. Begue was taken to Hancock General Hospital with a possible back injury and was later admitted. Alvarez and his wife, a passenger in the car, were also both treated at the hospital, he for a knee injury and she for a deep forehead cut. Five young children in the Alvarez vehicle were not injured, Woodfin said. The highway patrolman cited Alvarez for following too closely.

Damage to both automobiles was estimated at between $200 to $300.

Junior Auxiliary Holds Meeting

Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary held its monthly meeting Dec. 4 in the conference room at the Hancock General Hospital. Guest speaker Al Toler, Southern Regional Director for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., gave a brief background on how St.

Jude was founded and the many medical achievements that have been made since its beginning.

All of the hospital services are free of charge to all of its patients regardless of the ability to pay, even lodging for parents if necessary.

When you least expect it a great Christmas present may look you in the eye.

How many times have you looked and looked for just the right Christmas present and not been able to find it? Then—when you least expect it—there it is! The perfect gift. It's a good feeling. And it's a good time to have BankAmericard® along. Because merchants almost everywhere think of BankAmericard as money. So whether you're looking for gifts for the kids, ornaments for the tree or an extra-special something for an extra-special someone, remember to carry your BankAmericard with you. It's a great way to bring together all the things that help make Christmas, Christmas.

Think of it as Christmas money.

ALTAR GUILD

Our Lady of the Gulf Altar Guild met last Thursday afternoon in the Parish Hall with Mrs. Ivan Bradford, president, conducting the business session.

Very Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor Our Lady of the Gulf Church, discussed the new method of religious instructions for school children and Rev. Daniel Gallagher, associate pastor, showed movies of Ireland.

Mrs. Bradford was elected to represent the Guild on the Parish Council.

Following the business session members held their annual Christmas party with Mesdames Bradford, Lucille Weeks and Frank LaRosa as hostesses.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Our Lady of the Gulf students will present their annual Christmas program under the direction of Mrs. John McKenna, choral director, in St. Joseph's Memorial Hall December 19 following the 8:30 a.m. Mass. All parents, children and friends are invited.

A Christmas party for students will be held in O.L.G. cafeteria immediately after the program.

Classes will be dismissed for the holidays following the party and will resume January 3.

When the announcement was made by the Mammonites in D.C. that states, cities and municipalities would soon be getting federal revenue-sharing funds, elected officials everywhere hailed the importance of this move as the salvation for the financial woes besetting all communities.

Coming on top of this was the fact that the officials would receive their checks by November 1. Coincidentally, this came just prior to the national elections.

However, November 1 came and went and local officials made an estimated 13 trips each day to the P.O. Like a young maiden waiting for the handsome travelling salesman to return, they never gave up hope.

Lo and behold, the great election day arrived and we all know what happened...incumbents were swept back into office and local officials were still looking for the checks when the dust cleared.

With the passing of Thanksgiving, one official was heard to remark, "Well, it seems as though we weren't the only ones to get the bird."

However, to cliché an old phrase, "hope springs eternal" and they kept reassuring themselves and others that surely the federal government hadn't forgotten their promise and any day now....

Finally, like a sleeping bear waking up after a winter's sleep, someone in D.C. decided that perhaps they had better make an announcement to keep the natives from getting restless.

So they did. They announced that there had been a cut in the revenue sharing funds and that each group was getting approximately half of what was expected. Of course, they hastened to add, the second half would come next year.

To say the least, the news unsettled a few officials but they looked forward with eagerness to Uncle Sam's Christmas present.

However, Santa came a little early and delivered the checks this week and the singing of Christmas carols could be heard in courthouses and city halls throughout Mississippi.

Now comes the big question. When will we get the second half? Perhaps in time for Groundhog Day? Or Abraham Lincoln's Birthday?

May we make a suggestion. Perhaps the Mammonites could dress as big bunnies and deliver the next checks in person...on Easter Sunday.

Think of the headlines. PENNIES FROM THE POOKA. OR BUNNIES FROM THE BUNNIES. How about COINS FROM THE COTTONTAILS?

We are sure of one thing. The officials WILL get more revenue sharing money.

In 1976. To celebrate the 200th anniversary of our country. And before the next national elections.

BETTER HIGHWAYS FOR MISSISSIPPI

Dr. K. P. George, professor of Civil Engineering at the University of Mississippi, has proven that one of the primary theories on which American highways have been built for 50 years is not entirely accurate. With funds initially from the Mississippi Highway Department, the Ole Miss professor has shown that the "concave phenomenon" of soil cement is not entirely accurate. The theory which is concerned with the physical properties of soil cement, a mixture of soil and cement used in the construction of most highways, has been considered in the construction of highways since 1926.

MUSIC PROGRAM

This year more than 75 voices in eight choirs will combine forces to present the largest musical undertaking ever attempted by the First Baptist Church.

The program, under the leadership of Ronnie Hague, minister of music, will feature three children's choirs, four youth and the Church Sanctuary choirs. Accompanists will be Mrs. Glendal Salter at the organ and Mrs. Toy Tedford at the piano.

The program, entitled "Christmas Through the Ages," will be reminiscent of Christmas from Christ's birth to the present. It will be held in the Sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, 141 Main Street at 7 p.m., December 17. The public is invited.

Police Report

Bay St. Louis police responded to 57 calls during the period from December 6-December 13.

Two shotguns were stolen Dec. 7 from a residence at 105 Aulin Lane. J.J. Monahan, owner of the house, reported that entry was made by removal of an air conditioner from one of the windows.

The front window of the Western Auto store on N. Beach Blvd. was broken Dec. 9 but nothing was reported missing.

Police investigated a total of six two-vehicle collisions during this period but no injuries resulted from these accidents.

If you drive during the holidays, remember—drinking and driving don't mix. Drive carefully so you can enjoy 1973.

Deadly Days Coming Up

In a few short days, the State of Mississippi, as well as the nation, will enter into one of the most deadly periods of any time during the year—the Christmas and New Year holidays. Why deadliest? The Mississippi Economic Council has often asked this question, but the answer is still the same. The nation's highways during this "Let's get things done fast so we can relax" season become death traps for thousands of Americans.

In Mississippi alone last year, 30 people lost their lives on state and federal highways during these holidays. The problem cannot be solved simply by a slogan of "Buckle Up for Safety." The MEC, the state chamber of commerce, has long been concerned about the soaring accident rate and the human and economic losses.

The 1971 and 1972 sessions of the state legislature enacted valuable legislation to curb the accidents, including chemical tests for intoxication and more effective automobile inspection programs.

But there is only so much that a group of lawmakers can do. If the people do not listen to the pleas to slow down or not drink and drive, all the work goes for naught.

And people who have been involved in accidents can tell you there is nothing more frightening than the few seconds just before that car smashes into yours, or you realize you are going to hit that child on the bicycle or that child that runs unexpectedly into the path of your car.

Living is a habit, but also a luxury. A luxury that, like all luxuries, can be destroyed in a few short moments of daydreaming at the wheel, having that extra drink with the boys, and speeding to get to the relatives, house at the prescribed time.

Preservation of life is a simple matter. Slow down. Don't speed just because you are late—the food will still be on the table and friends just as happy to see you. Don't take that third or fourth drink. And, of yes, buckle up for safety.

(Miss. Economic Council)

We've Observed

Beautification of highway businesses has begun. A local nursery has trimmed its curb, swept the gutter, and landscaped its highway frontage.

The town is going to the dogs—"litterly"—overturned garbage cans and dogs running wild frightening children and adults. Something must be done by both the dogs' owners and the city.

A move is on to register the Oak trees in our area. Great idea!

The progress at the Junior High School. It will be an asset to the general appearance of the city when it's finished.

The bright green rye grass at a highway motel. Maybe this would help the appearance along the "scenic route".

Today is election day for the Bay St. Louis Neighborhood Development Program. Don't forget to vote.

Christmas is right around the corner. Nice having our street decorations up again.

Winter fogs have descended upon us. Everyone should remember to drive with care.

A prime example of county-city-private cooperation in the reclaiming of the dump on Christ Episcopal property. It is now a sanitary land fill.

The gorgeous display of fall color on our trees. It rivals what we saw in Vermont in October.

There is still no sidewalk along the first block of Main Street. One resident told us that he and his neighbors had signed a petition 25 years ago requesting same, but he guessed that by this time that the public officials had forgotten about it. Hope at last there can be a reward for such patience!

Chamber Report

By Sylvia McComiskey

Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

With the Annual Fund Drive of the Chamber of Commerce now underway, we would like to direct the following information toward the retired business or professional men and women of Hancock County.

Your Chamber of Commerce will be receptive to your request for membership. The annual dues are only $25.00 for a personal, non-business related membership. Many retired people find this is a good investment in keeping them "awake" to what is going on.

The Chamber needs the mature knowledge of this type of citizen. Several retired citizens have been valued members of the Chamber Board of Directors.

This is an open invitation to retired business or professional people to come by the Chamber of Commerce office, just West of Turan-Lane Chevrolet on Highway 90, pay your dues, and get into the act. Your ideas or leadership could be the spark we need to get some very worthwhile projects moving.

Sears-Roebuck and Company Catalog Store has the distinction of being the first 1973 member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce. We thank Ron McKinney, Manager, for Sears' promptness in paying their annual dues.

The businesses and individuals who have sent in their 1973 Membership Dues this week are: Sears-Roebuck and Company, Bay Plumbing Company, Mr. Edgar L. Holbrook, Dantagran Realty, Inc., Colonial Baking Company, Brother Pierre St. Pierre, State Farm Insurance, Mr. Adolf G. Uram, Haas and

CALVING INTERVALS

Research with DHIA (Dairy Herd Improvement Association) herds shows that the cows that milk 355 days and is given a 60 day dry period is more profitable than a cow that is milked for longer periods before she calves again.

This means that the most profitable calving interval for dairy cows, as well as beef cows, is 12 months.

To help get this 12-month interval in calving, here are some suggestions:

Give close attention to each cow at calving time. Be prompt in treating cows should complications arise at calving time or following calving.

Observe cows closely for symptoms of heat, but do not breed a cow until 60 days after she calves.

Inseminate or breed the cow at the proper time. This should be 10 to 12 hours after the cow is first noticed in heat.

Use high conception bulls. If you are using artificial insemination, make sure the inseminator knows his business.

Pregnancy testing 50 to 60 days after breeding will help in detecting nonpregnant cows that you might assume to be pregnant.

Haas Attorneys, Russell Finance Corporation, Ingram Industries, Inc., Barq's Bottling Company, Sen. Martin Smith and Coast Service, Inc.

We thank these people for their promptness and continued support of their Chamber of Commerce.

Saturday, December 2, a new business opened on Coleman Avenue in Waveland. The Bargain Mart, offering anything from building materials to wigs, typewriters and boats at substantial savings to the customer, will be open daily from 9 to 5, seven days a week, according to Dix Ashman, owner. This is a paradise for the bargain hunter and we wish them great success.

ACID SOILS

Acid soils are seriously limiting soybean production on more than half the acreage represented by soils samples tested in the past year.

Research has shown that raising the soil pH to 6.0 or above with lime may increase soybean yields as much as 10 bushels per acre in extreme cases. Where the pH is 5.6 to 5.9, raising the pH to 6.0 or above might be more on the order of three to five bushels per acre increase. Still a profitable investment.

Remember this! You can't just look at your soil and tell whether or not it needs lime. Taking soil samples and sending them to the State Soils Testing Laboratory at Mississippi State University for analysis will let you know for sure.

FOREST FIRES

In Mississippi 99.9 percent of all forest fires are man-caused. Almost 60 percent of all forest fires are classified as "incendiary," and account for 77 percent of all acreage burned. This means that more than three out of every five fires are set by people for the specific purpose of burning land that is not their own.

Remember that when the woods burn, everyone loses. The loss is tremendous in money and jobs. It is devastating to the wildlife and results in greater erosion and pollution of our lakes and streams.

UPGRADE DAIRY COWS

The best way to improve your dairy herd and have better cows is to breed all cows and heifers to A.I. plus-proven bulls. Daughters of plus-proven bulls have the inherited ability to produce more milk. They convert feed into milk more quickly and make you more money.

SOYBEAN DAY

Mark your calendar now and make your plans to participate in Mississippi Soybean Day at Mississippi State University on January 15, 1973. Winners in the Soybean Contest will be an-

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Recently we read a most interesting article by Alfred H. Stone about traditions common in the South. He listed southern hospitality, southern chivalry and southern honor as most important, but granted that these qualities could be found elsewhere than in the South and didn't need the prefixed adjective to make them potent. In fact, he might have added that the invariable use of "southern" was somewhat reminiscent of the Shakespearean lady who "doth protest too much".

Indeed, hospitality, chivalry and honor are most important and should be keystones of the character of every man and woman, North or South. But there are also other important facets of a person's life, and this season of the year, just before Christmas Day, is a fine time for the owners to display them.

The first is compassion. Just now everything is bustling with preparations for the holiday: gifts for the family, cards for the friends, decorations for the tree, specials for the big festive dinner—one scarcely has time to think with all this going on. But that's where the quality of compassion takes over, if you have it—not compassion for those of your "set", not even for relatives or close friends, but sympathy, help and even a little Christ-like love for those around you who are lonely and depressed and have no bright star to look forward to on Christmas Eve.

O. Henry once wrote a story (it was about Thanksgiving, but the point is the same) about a man who, though he had little enough himself to eat, invariably every year selected some character from Skid Row, took him to a good restaurant, and stuffed him with the appropriate viands of the day. That was compassion, because it meant going without a good dinner for himself. In your case it might mean giving up a happy hour with the family to take a plate of candy and some cheery conversation to some old and lonesome neighbor, even to listen to the troubles of some desolate woman who has no one in the world to wish her Yuletide cheer, or even just to kneel in church and offer a prayer for the forgotten and forsaken ones in the community.

So get ready—now—for a merry Christmas for your neighbor as well as for yourself. And if you should happen to get to feeling too saintly about your good deeds, just remember that "A Christian is a man who feels Repentance on a Sunday for what he did on Saturday and is going to do on Monday!"

Home Making Notes

DIXIE O. PARKER,
EXTENSION HOME
ECONOMIST

HANCOCK COUNTY WILL IT BE TURKEY OR
HAM FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER?

Christmas nears and with it comes lots of decisions by the homemaker. With some advance planning and sharing of preparations by all family members, and with some imagination, holiday menus can pay off in the warm approval of your family and friends.

For most families, the most important and most costly item on the Christmas dinner menu is the meat. That's the food around which the rest of the meal is built. In most homes, turkey and ham will be the main choice.

When you buy the turkey, be sure it is well dressed. By this I mean that the highest quality birds are wearing the Grade A shield and inspection stamps of the USDA.

Experienced graders and inspectors of the USDA are stationed in processing plants and grade and inspect the turkeys as they come down the processing line. Only the meatiest, top quality birds with no defects wear the Grade A shield and the inspection stamp denotes healthy birds that were processed under the most rigid sanitary conditions.

If you buy a frozen turkey, be sure to allow three hours per pound for thawing in the refrigerator. Be sure to remove the giblets from the chest and body cavity before stuffing or roasting the bird.

The main types of hams on the market are the fully cooked and the uncooked. You may not want to buy a whole ham. If you buy a half ham, you get exactly that half of ham with no center slices removed. Read the label on the ham.

You may buy a butt or shank "portion" of ham, which means that some or all of the center slices have been removed from the ham.

Uncooked hams must be thoroughly cooked before they are eaten. Fully cooked hams may be served without further cooking. Canned hams are completely cooked when purchased and should be refrigerated but never frozen.

You can improve the texture of the ham you buy and add flavor and richness if you cook all hams to an internal temperature of 170 degrees before you eat them.

FRESH COCONUT
Many Christmas desserts are made special treats with the addition of fresh coconut. Fresh coconut may be an ingredient in ambrosia, cakes, pies and a variety of other dishes. For the best results, buy and prepare the coconut carefully.

A good fresh coconut is heavy for its size. Before buying, shake the coconut to be sure it contains milk. Avoid cracked coconuts and those with wet, moldy "eyes."

To open a coconut, pierce the "eyes" with an ice pick or large nail, and drain the liquid from the coconut. To remove the shell, bake the drained coconut at 350 degrees F. for 20 to 30 minutes, or put it in the freezer for 20 to 30 minutes. Then place the coconut on a firm surface, and tap the shell lightly with a hammer in several places until it cracks. Separate the meat from the shell.

Use a vegetable parer to remove the brown skin. Then grate or shred the coconut as desired.

Fresh coconuts in the shell retain good quality up to a month in the refrigerator. Containers of grated, flaked or shredded coconut keep the best in the refrigerator.

Unsweetened fresh grated coconut mixed with the coconut milk freezes well. If you prefer, add one part sugar to eight parts shredded coconut. It can be frozen without the coconut milk but this adds extra flavor.

DEATHS

MRS. ALICE BOURGEOIS

Mrs. Alice Thelma (Peterson) Bourgeois, 68, a resident of Gulfport, died at 1:30 a.m. Friday, December 8, at Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Bourgeois, who was born November 30, 1904, in Hancock County, resided in Waveland prior to moving to Gulfport a year ago. She was a member of St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church.

She is survived by a brother, Otto Peterson, Gulfport. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at Riemann Funeral Home, Gulfport followed by interment in Rotten Bayou Cemetery.

BYRON H. LIZANA

Byron Hosey Lizana, 47, a native of Hancock County and resident of Saucier, Miss., in Riceville Community, died at 12:35 a.m. December 8 in Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

An inspector with Irby-Teledyne Steel Company, Gulfport, he made his home in Gulfport prior to moving to Saucier 25 years ago. He was a Baptist and a member of J.L. Power Lodge 416, F&AM, Perkinson.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Frances Ladner Lizana; two sons, Billy Gene Lizana and James Lee Lizana, all of Riceville Community; two daughters, Mrs. Patsy Darlene Ladner, Perkinson, and Miss Janice Marie Lizana, Riceville; four sisters, Mrs. Ellia Laux, New Orleans; Mrs. Verda Neale, Gulfport; Mrs. Annie Mae Harrell, Poplarville, and Mrs. Ivelle Pittman, Pascagoula, and two grandchildren.

Forestry Report

Harvesting time for the tree farmer, though rewarding, is a time when critical decisions must be made.

The timber grower who has worked diligently applying the best practices to grow his timber now faces the question of how to incorporate profits, utilization, future forest growth, and environmental protection into his timber sale.

Perhaps of greatest interest to the owner is his desire to get the highest return for his timber. Many times, however, the highest immediate price does not mean the best overall return in the long run. For example, to cut a young vigorous stand of trees without regard to the future could bring more money at the time of the sale, but may preclude the more valuable future wood growth that occurs on larger trees. It is best for the private landowner, who wishes to continue growing timber to thin his young stands of timber. In this way he will remove the lower quality trees and provide space for the better trees to grow. As the better quality trees become larger, they can be sold for more valuable products.

Damage to trees, fences, roads, streams and remaining timber from a logging operation must also be considered when timber is sold.

To obtain the best bid for his timber, the tree farmer should first set logging standards and then seek as many offers for his timber stumpage as possible. This can be done by notifying all local timber buyers and companies that timber is for sale, pointing out the conditions of the sale. Once bids are obtained, the seller should select the best offer according to price and agreed compliance with logging standards. The standards should include protection against fire, logging damage to fences, roads, soil and standing trees. They should be included in the written sale contract with a performance guarantee.

County Forester Mike Hendry suggests that anyone who plans to sell timber should feel free to call on him for help. "Professional assistance in choosing the trees that should be sold and in drawing up timber sale contracts can make timber growing a more profitable business."

L. F. DAHL, JR.

Funeral services for Leroy Francis Dahl Jr., 19, who was pronounced dead at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday, December 6, on arrival at Hancock General Hospital, were held at 2 p.m. Friday from Riemann-Fahey Funeral Home chapel with Very Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, officiating.

Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery with Jerry Mitchell, Kenny Ray Carver, Bert LaFontaine, Randy Williams, Rickey Soldini, Rickey Kennedy, Carl Talluto and Billy Boswell serving as pallbearers.

Born December 23, 1952, Mr. Dahl was the son of Leroy Francis Dahl Sr. and Mrs. Annie Ruth Dahl, both of Bay St. Louis.

He was employed as a truck driver for Jerry Scaffdi, Bay St. Louis, and was a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Survivors, in addition to his parents, are a sister, Miss Arlene Dahl; four brothers, Kenneth Lee Dahl, Mark Dahl, Virgil Dahl and Doyle Dahl, all of Bay St. Louis, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Bertha Dahl, Ocean Springs.

The city of Waveland hosted the annual Gulf Coast Municipal Officers Association Christmas party Monday night at Haverly's Restaurant. Municipal officials and their guests from Moss Point, Pascagoula, Biloxi, Gulfport, Long Beach, Pass Christian, Bay St. Louis and Waveland were on hand for the festivities. At left, Mrs. Nancy Gex helps Santa distribute the Christmas gifts. To the right, "The New Hope Singers" entertain with folk songs and Christmas carols. Members of the group, from left to right, include Mrs. Karen Compretta, Mrs. Pat Fayard, Mrs. Lois Wiltz, Mrs. Alice Boudin, Miss Fe Seuzeneau and Mrs. Sandra Compretta. Below, Santa gives greetings to Miss Barbara Rappold, left, Waveland city clerk, and Mayor and Mrs. Garfield Loder.

Guillory Ordination To Be Held Saturday

Rev. Curtis Guillory, S.V.D., 29, Divine Word Missionary, will be ordained to the priesthood at 10 a.m. Saturday, December 16 in St. Ann's Church, Mallet, La. The Most Reverend Carlos A. Lewis, S.V.D., auxiliary Bishop of Panama, will officiate.

Father Guillory will say his first Mass at 10 a.m., Sunday, December 17, at St. Ann's Church.

Father, who has already received an appointment to work in black communities in the Southern United States, was born in Lafayette, La. He is the son of Wilfred and Theresa Guillory, Ville Platte, La. He was a member of St. Ann's Parish and attended school there. He entered the Society of the Divine Word in 1960, at Saint Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, and received a B.A. from Divine Word College, Epworth, Iowa. He is the eldest of 16 children. His brother Kerry is a brother in the Franciscan Order at Our Lady of Grace Parish, Artesia, New Mexico.

... From Senator Eastland

WASHINGTON - Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) said today he wants to put Congress on record as expressing a national policy of revitalizing America's fishing industry.

Eastland says he plans to introduce a resolution as the first step toward reversing the decline of the commercial and sport fishing industry in the United States. He plans to submit his legislation when the 93rd Congress convenes on January 3.

"In all of our history, the United States has never expressed a national policy involving this vital segment of American life and economy," Eastland said. "This would put the federal government on record in the strongest terms as favoring a vigorous and productive fishing industry."

Expected to join Eastland in introducing the resolution are lawmakers from states bordering on the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans and the Gulf of Mexico. "Actually," said the Senator, "there is strong backing for this measure from just about every state - from Maine to Hawaii and from Alaska to Florida."

Thd Mississippi Senator pointed out that the United States has slipped from the position of first to seventh among major fishing nations. He said there has been "a most serious decline" in the production of food fish and shell fish in the last five years until nearly 60 percent of the nation's seafood requirements are being met through imports.

In addition, he said that the nation's domestic fishing fleet in many instances has become "obsolete and inefficient" and foreign fishing interests have invaded this country's coastal waters, bringing about a decline in the stocks of a number of species. "This has resulted in a severe economic hardship to the entire industry," the Senator said.

He described the fishing industries as facing "almost insurmountable production and economic problems," and added: "We are confronted with a life or death - do or die - situation as far as the future of fishing goes."

The Eastland resolution would put Congress on record as favoring "all support necessary" to strengthen the nation's fishing industry and to take "all steps" to provide adequate protection from excessive foreign fishing.

In addition, it would go on record as favoring federal-state cooperation promoting "conservation and scientific management" of fisheries resources and boost federal help in this area.

Eastland said he anticipated "very quick action" on this resolution which he predicted "will provide the basis for an all-out effort to restore the nation's fishing industry to its rightful place among the nations of the world."

Ole Miss Professors To Study Proposed Welfare Reforms

Two University of Mississippi professors have begun a study to analyze the impact in the rural South of proposed sweeping social welfare reforms, advocated by legislators, recipients, and taxpayers alike.

Dr. Brian S. Rungeling and Dr. Lewis H. Smith, assistant professors of Economics at Ole Miss, will also assist in providing an analysis of the actual economic and social impact once reform has been implemented.

Plans were outlined recently during the annual meeting of the Southern Regional Demographic Group (SRDG)-formed under the auspices of Oak Ridge Associated Universities-at Oak Ridge, Tenn. The project is a joint effort between the University of Texas at Austin, Georgia State University and Southern University.

Areas to be studied include success of the income floor plan, success of financial incentives to work, migration tendencies related to employment opportunities, whether or not low income families stay together, increase or reduction of poor families headed by women, possibilities of long term reduction in the number of families classified as living in poverty, and reduction of future costs of welfare.

"A single rural county was selected for study in each of four states - Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas," Dr. Rungeling said.

TRASH PICKUP

Felix Seeger, superintendent of sanitation and public grounds for Bay St. Louis, has asked that city residents contain leaves and tree branches cleaned off their properties before putting out for trash pickup. Loose piles of leaves are difficult for the cleanup crews to pick up, Seeger said. The men can do a much better job of trash collecting if refuse is contained in plastic bags or cardboard boxes before being put out for collection.

Sooo... WHY START?

① It's often said that older people who warn against drugs are HYPOCRITES who use alcohol, tobacco, tranquilizers, etc. Actually they find it hard or impossible to give up their "crutches" and may wish they had never started.

Why not be smarter than they were?

② It's often said that marijuana is NO WORSE than alcohol—but even if that's true, alcohol is the nation's No. 1 drug problem.

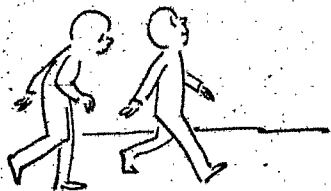

Why work to develop a new problem that is no worse than the worst?

③ It's often said that hallucinogens HEIGHTEN PERCEPTION and "expand" the mind—actually they produce illusions and distorted images caused by abnormal functioning of the senses.

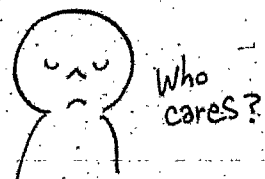

Why not change reality by working constructively in the real world?

④ It's often said that amphetamines INCREASE users' mental and physical CAPACITIES—actually they draw on the body's reserve energies...repeated drains on reserves will exhaust the body and mind.

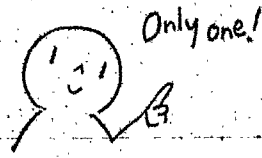

Why not find your limits by natural means?

⑤ It's often said that barbiturates slow the world down—MAKE PROBLEMS SMALLER—actually barbiturates slow you down, dull your capacities.

Why delude yourself into thinking that not caring solves problems?

⑥ It's often said that TRYING JUST ONCE never harmed anyone—but the law makes no exceptions for the first time. Most hopeless addicts start by trying "just once."

Why think that you will be lucky, and not get hooked?

WHY NOT NEVER START USING DRUGS?

WHY NOT EXPERIENCE LIFE AND LIVE IT NATURALLY?

St. Paul's Chorus Entertains Pass Gardeners

Young choristers in white cassocks with red bows from St. Paul's Elementary School entertained members of the Pass Christian Garden Club at its Dec. 7 meeting at Trinity Episcopal House.

Also heard on the program were Rev. Herbert Beasley, Methodist pastor and his daughter Patsy in a duet with guitar accompaniment by Rev. Beasley. It was an ecumenical group, with the choristers from a Catholic school, of which Miss Adele Bladenberg is principal, led by Miss Lucy Kovace and Thelma Vockey, singing in the newly rebuilt Episcopal House and having Rev. Beasley as honored guest. The melody of Christmas carols were accompanied by taped organ music and a background choir of fifth graders. The fourth graders singing before the membership were Desiree Davion, Janet Blazek, John Logan, Ted Schmidt, Lory Wuesthoff, Tod Erichsen, Lawrence Yarbrough, Penny Rodriguez, Anne James, Danyale LaCoste, Cary Lang, Gina Gerriga, Chris Bluznik and Betsy Sisson.

Mrs. Justine Kuhn, chairman of the membership committee, introduced new members, Ms. Lucille Brunson, Mrs. Sydney Pugh, Mrs. Donald Rogers, Mrs. Guy Billups and Mrs. M.M. Simpson. A donation of $100 by Mrs. Howard F. Haines towards the building fund was accepted by Mrs. Leland E. Littell, president. Mrs. Haines is also Co-Chairman of Flower Shows for the Club and she very kindly stipulated that every time $900 was collected towards the Garden Center Fund, she would donate $100.

Plans for the Club's Bazaar of December 9 were discussed and the meeting ended with the presentation of gifts to the honored guests.

Words Words Words

BY J. R. HOAR

Mark Twain once said: "I never write 'metropolis' for seven cents when I can get the same price of 'city' ". That's good advice for high school journalists.

Of course, unusual words are fun. You can never tell when it will be handy in working a crossword puzzle to know that a "kerf" is the little channel cut by a saw, that an "impi" is a group of armed Zulus, that a "ficc" is a gesture of contempt made by biting your thumb at someone, or that a "fizzig" is a giddy girl. Handy... fun... but not useful if you are trying to exchange thoughts.

The word communication comes from the Latin communis, common. When we communicate we establish a commonness with someone. Actually, we have a lot of tools. The average fourth grader is familiar with about 3,000 words, the average newspaper reader with 10,000.

Do you need to go outside the 10,000 most familiar words to communicate? Probably not, except to add richness and for effect. Time magazine uses a word outside the 10,000 most familiar only about once in a hundred words. Reader's Digest can be read and understood with ease by the average eighth grader. Robert Gunning, a readability expert, points out that best selling books have a few long words. Here are the averages he reports for some all-time best sellers:

Gone With the Wind... 4.9 per cent
Oliver Twist... 5.9 per cent
Ben Hur... 5.6 per cent
Ivanhoe... 6.8 per cent

Doubletalk and big words can really get in the way of understanding. There's the story about the plumber who wrote the National Bureau of Standards that he had found hydrochloric acid excellent for cleaning drains. Did it agree? The bureau replied, "The efficacy of hydrochloric acid is indisputable, but the chlorine residue is incompatible with metallic permanence."

The plumber wrote the bureau that he was glad it agreed with him.

Alarmed, the bureau sent him a second letter: "We cannot assume responsibility for the production of toxic and noxious residues with hydrochloric acid, and suggest an alternate procedure."

The plumber replied that he was pleased to hear that the bureau still agreed with him.

Whereupon the bureau wired: "Don't use hydrochloric acid; it eats hell out of the pipes."

Not just governmental agencies are addicted to doubletalk. Government officials have their "officialese" but educational officials are equally fond of "pedagogy." Have you heard these definitions?

"Paraprofessional"... a mom who helps teacher collect the lunch money.

"Resource Center"... a library with a film projector.

"Media Co-ordinator"... anybody who can work the tape recorder.

A bit of advice of unknown origin at least as old as the 1880's goes like this:

"In promulgating your esoteric cogitations and in articulating your superficial sentimentalities and amicable, philosophical, or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your communications possess a clarified conciseness, a compacted comprehensibility, coalescent consistency, and a concatenated cogency. Eschew all conglomerations of flutulent garrulity, jejune babblement, and asinine affection. Let your extemporaneous descantings and unpremeditated expatiations have intelligibility and vivacious veracity without rhodomontade or thrasonical bombast. Sedulously avoid all polysyllabic profundity, pompous prolixity, psittacous vacuity, ventriloquial verbosity, and vaniloquent vapidity. Shun all double entendre, prurient jocosity, and pestiferous profanity, obscure or apparent." In other words, talk plainly, briefly, truthfully, naturally, sensibly, purely. Keep from slang; don't put on airs. Say what you mean; mean what you say. And don't use big words.

This is not to say that we do not need all of the words we can master. We need vocabularies from which to pick precise words to express precise meanings. ("The difference between the best word and the next best," Mark Twain wrote, "is the difference between the lightning and the lightning bug.") Another reason we need to master words is because they are the tools with which we think. Ponder this: the range of our thoughts is limited by the words we know. There are thoughts which we shall never think because we don't know the words with which to think them.

Pineville-DeLisle Senior Citizens Hold Party

The first Christmas party for senior citizens in the Pineville-DeLisle area was held Thursday afternoon, Dec. 7, at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church in the Brown Memorial Hall.

The party was arranged by Mrs. Dorothy Pavolini, Community Service Aide, Older Americans Area-wide Model Project. She was assisted by volunteers from the community, members of the Pineville Garden Club and Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Gamma Mu Chapter, and Brother Thomas, Pastor, Our Lady of Good Hope, DeLisle.

Brother Thomas entertained the guests with a movie, "Traditions of Christmas and Christmas Carols." Afterwards, carols were sung by the group.

About 15 per cent of the nation's copper is produced by using shredded second-hand steel cans in combination with chemicals to leach the metal from low grade ore.

The refreshment table was covered with a linen Christmas cloth with a centerpiece of a Christmas Horn of Plenty. Cookies, cakes, candies, fruit punch and eggnog were served. Mrs. Diane Peranich, Mrs. Denise Gerard, and Mrs. Norma Bonney assisted Mrs. Pavolini as hostesses. Gifts were provided by V.F.W. Post No. 59, Brother Thomas and local merchants. Mrs. Gwen Gollotte, Project Coordinator, Older Americans Area-wide Model Project, extended holiday wishes to the group and introduced members of her staff, Mrs. Kitty Dunnaway, Administrative Assistant; Mrs. Joyce Carvia, Secretary and special guest, Mrs. Ruth Boyd of the Economic Development Administration, Washington, D.C.

The relatively new, basic oxygen process accounted for nearly 27 million tons, or 56.7 per cent of all steel made in the U.S. during the first half of 1972.

Mrs. Tudury Honored For Service To March Of Dimes

Mrs. Theodore Tudury of Bay St. Louis was honored recently by the National Foundation of the March of Dimes for having served for 35 years as a volunteer to that organization.

Joseph T. Noe, president of the National Foundation, presented the award to Mrs. Tudury at a luncheon in Jackson Nov. 23. Mrs. Tudury is the only one in the nation to have served for that length of time.

Mrs. Tudury began collecting for the March of Dimes in October, 1938 when it was organized by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. She was appointed county chairman of the organization in 1947.

Under Mrs. Tudury's guidance, the local chapter has never had to call on the National Foundation for financial assistance. Half of the money collected stays in Hancock County to be used for patient care for those afflicted with polio or birth defects.

Service to the March of Dimes did not stop with Mrs. Tudury. Her daughter, Mrs. Dan M. Russell Jr., has served as advisor to the Teenage Program (TAP) as captain of the Mother's March, chapter treasurer and has been named chairman of the 1973 March of Dimes Fund Drive in Hancock County.

Mrs. Russell's two children, Brian and Dale, have also devoted much of their time to this organization. Dale, who accompanied Mrs. Tudury to Jackson, was TAP chairman while in high school and initiated the March of Dimes student drive at the University of Southern Mississippi and served as its chairman. She is now serving as advisor to TAP in New Orleans.

In 1967, Dale received the Lucy Baines Johnson award and received a trip to New York and was featured in Seventeen magazine.

While attending Bay Senior High, Brian served as county chairman of TAP.

"The March of Dimes has truly been a family project," Mrs. Tudury commented, "and I am so gratified by the fact that they chose to serve this wonderful organization."

RAISIN CHRISTMAS COOKIE TREES

- 1 package (13 1/2-ounce) all-purpose cookie mix
- 1 package (2-ounce) whipped topping mix
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 1/4 cups chopped California seedless raisins
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1/4 cup chopped candied red cherries
- 1/4 cup chopped candied green cherries

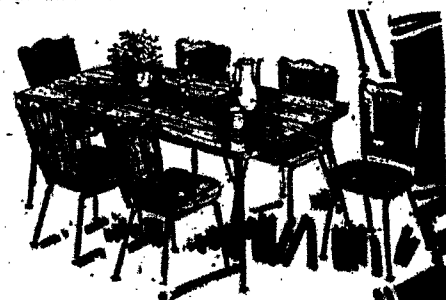

Preheat oven to 375 degrees.

Prepare cookie mix according to package directions for rolled and cut cookies. Roll dough 1/4 inch thick. Using graduated cookie cutters or paper rounds, cut eight each of five different sized circles ranging from 2 1/2 to 1 1/4". Bake on lightly greased baking sheet 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove to rack to cool. Prepare whipped topping mix as package directs, adding vanilla. Fold in raisins, pecans and cherries. Spread over cookies and stack in graduated sizes to make 5-layer "trees".

Makes 8 trees.

Pass Juniors Will Present F.L.I.P.P.E.D.

Women's Liberation will be satirized at 8 p.m. Thursday night, Dec. 14, when the Pass Christian High School Junior Class presents its class play, Female Liberation Idealist Party Permanent Equality Democracy (F.L.I.P.P.E.D.) by playwright David Rogers.

The play will be presented in the Pass High School auditorium on Second and Church St. Tickets may be purchased from any cast member or at the door. The cost is $0.75 students, $1 adults.

The play will be directed by Janet Moise, speech and English teacher at Pass High. Student director is Deborah Schmidt.

In the play which is set in New York City, the women have decided they have been dominated by men too long. Instead of trying to compromise, they go to the extreme and try to dominate the men.

The climax is reached in a courtroom scene where the problems are resolved, and the players understand each other's viewpoints.

The cast of characters follows: Man, Leonard Lizana; Young Mother, Henrietta Jacobs; Teenage Girl, Mary Saucier; Boyfriend, Leroy O'Geese; Jane Boland, Denise Easterling; Christabelle Pendleton, Kathy Bates;

Saleslady, Yvonne Alexander; Flora Hayden, Augustine McKay; Niki Pendleton, Susanne Hammett; Opal Lambrinos, Patti Wells; Myra Grant, Frances Daniels; Sandra Miller, Terry Feralta; Ella Gold, Nancy McDonald; Lynn Reed, Sally Alston; Sergeant Williams, Leroy O'Geese; Pin Fuller, Leonard Lizana;

Official 1972 Bicentennial Medal Offered

WASHINGTON, D. C. American Revolution Bicentennial medals will be produced by the U.S. Mint in cooperation with the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission.

The ARBC was established by Congress in a law signed by the President to "plan, encourage, develop and coordinate" events and activities surrounding the nation's Bicentennial observance.

The bronze medal, approximately 1 1/4 inches in diameter, is enclosed in a see-through protective case which can be inserted in a display case that enables viewing from both sides. An attractive blue flocking highlights the medal, and the case repeats the Bicentennial symbol in bronze stamping. A foldout describing the historical significance of the events depicted on the medal is included in the case.

Commenting on the public sales effort, ARBC Chairman Mahoney said, "We believe that through the sale of the Bicentennial medal to the American people we help spread the spirit of the Bicentennial across the land. The Commission hopes to finance many important aspects of the commemoration with revenues derived from the sale of the various medals."

It is fitting that George Washington be represented on the initial commemorative medal; the Father of our Country thus becomes the figure head of the first Bicentennial medal. The words "American Revolution Bicentennial" and the official symbol of the ARBC are inscribed on this same side.

Awards Presented To SSC Gridders

The St. Stanislaus High School student dining hall was the site of the recent banquet honoring the 1972 football squad under the direction of new head coach Barry Jones. The event was sponsored in part by the St. Stanislaus

Sidelines Club. Coach Jones praised the players for their dedication, hard work, and enthusiasm. He also offered thanks on behalf of the team members and the entire coaching staff to the school administration under the direction of Brother Lee Barker; athletic director, Brother Louis Joseph; weight lifting coordinator, Brother Bennett; Brothers Phillip, Andries, and Alban; and the members of the Sidelines Club.

Highlighting the banquet was the presentation of awards to the student athletes. National merit semifinalist, Rick Kergosien, was voted the most valuable "Rock-a-Chaw" by his fellow team members for his efforts which included 15 touchdowns and more than 1,400 yards of total offense.

Other awards presented and their recipients were Alvin Aramburo, most valuable offensive lineman; Gary Dubroc and Ed Kergosien, most valuable defensive linemen; Rick Kergosien, most valuable offensive back; John Ludlow, John Knight, and Phillip Barbara, most valuable defensive backs. Barbara also received the spirit of '72 special award. Elected permanent team captains were Lance Outalett and Gary Dubroc. Dubroc and Kergosien were also named to the All Gulf Coast Conference team. The most outstanding sophomore football player award was earned by Monnie Elchos, and freshman letterman John Wolf was chosen the most outstanding in his class.

Coaches Jones, Poole, and Ladner were presented gifts of appreciation by the team captains representing the completed season.

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

It was a different story this weekend regarding speckle trout fishing. Everyone was catching them last weekend but very few were caught Saturday or Sunday. The reason was the cold front that came in didn't last long and the rains of last week drove the speckles out of the river. The temperatures of the past couple of days registered in the 70's. Cold weather is needed for the best speckle trout fishing.

Just the opposite, fresh water fish were caught mostly with under water baits due to low tides and warm weather. The water in Pearl River and adjoining bayous is clear right now.

Red fish are still being caught as well as flounders. Hunting seems to be at a standstill. Will try to have more on this in the next issue.

Speaking about catching red fish, Judge Homes said they have been catching plenty of them at Sandy Bayou, off the seawall down by Clermont Harbor. He has been catching his share.

Was told that Jerome Carver tried catching some speckles down in the canals off Bayou Caddy. They were caught last week but seemed to have moved out again. The canals are a good place to catch them most any old time. Red fish and other salt water fish are also gotten here. Jerome is an expert at fly fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ladner, their daughter, Carol and Mrs. Guy Brandt, of New Jersey and near Spring Field, Massachusetts left Saturday after spending three weeks with Mrs. Fred Garner, Lloyd and Mrs. Ladner and friends. Pie as he is familiarly known to most folks did quite a bit of fishing while here. He is an ardent fisherman and knows how to get them. Hurry back, Pie.

Talked to Jpe Carona of McComb, Miss. Joe and His fishing buddies come down quite often to fishing this section. Tried his luck at north shore Sunday. He does most any kind of fishing, and goes at every opportunity. They were after speckles. North shore over by Sidelers is a swell place to catch speckles when trolling along the railroad just north of the Watson Williams Bridge. Boats can be rented and bait for still fishing is usually available.

Glad to report that Russell Elliott is doing fine after his recent operation. He is up and about and waiting to get out.

Another shut-in is Eddie Heath who underwent an eye operation. Eddie and the Missus enjoy their fishing. He admits that Catherine is the best when it comes to catching fish. They share their boat with their friends and do a lot of fishing out near the Louisiana Marshes. Red fish and speckles seem to be their specialties.

Andy Anderson was over again the past weekend. Had to get back to N.O. for Sunday. Didn't have time to do any fishing. He has his trailer at Shoreline Park.

M.F. (Mighty Fine) Cass visited his friend Bill Braxton of Pensacola, Fla., Monday. Cass said he didn't have time to go fishing. Strictly business. Bill and Cass are old time war buddies.

Greg Thomas, son of Bob Thomas will visit his parents on Jan. 7. Greg works for Delta Airlines. He is an ardent fisherman and will do some fishing while home.

Bob and Nell Dahlstroms are planning to visit Bay St. Louis friends for Christmas. They love Bay St. Louis and hope to return some day.

S.E. Oliver a local fisherman lost his wallet last week around the A & P. Store including his I.D. Card and driver's license. Will be willing to pay a reward for return of the wallet.

Heard that Boo Noto and his fishing companions caught a bunch of rat reds up to 9 lbs in Biloxi Bayou. There are dams in the bayou over which the fish pass. Anchoring near the dam reds are caught and a little further away speckles can be gotten. Biloxi Bayou is in the Louisiana Marsh. Low tides are when the fish are daughter most.

Geo. W. Byrne of Pass Christian is a fresh water fisherman but is learning to troll for speckles. Stay with fresh water fishing it is a year round sport, George.

John Libscomb and Roger McMurry from Hattiesburg, Miss. came down to do some speckle trout fishing Saturday. They wound up catching black bass. John and Roger were guests of Yours Truly. The bass were caught by casting with underwater baits. Both are good fishermen.

Judge Homes gave us a safety precaution. When making Christmas electric decorations wear a hard hat. Don't know why.

When hunting squirrels Sam Benigno says shoot them with a 22 rifle. Hit them right under their nose. It will cut off their breathing. No bullets to remove. Sounds fishy.

Bill Johnson who has been in Pennsylvania working is at his home in Waveland for the Xmas holidays. Bill plays golf and does some fishing. Welcome home Bill.

Joe Cook Kellar spends his weekends mingling with friends. Can find him at Sam's Bar or Clarise's in Waveland. Too busy to fish he claims.

Ray Garner and Alden Mauffray spent Sunday fishing. Haven't heard what they got. You can bet they caught something.

Ted O'Neil, fur division chief of the La. Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, reported that the muskrat catch may be somewhat short of the 1971-72 take of 326, 513.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK Charles Miller lives in Shoreline Park. Charles is retired and loves to fish, crab, etc. Spends the rest of his time mingling with friends. Catches perch and bass practically in his back yard.

pelts, but nutria this year is expected to hold stable with last year's catch of 1,286, 622 pelts. Indications also are that the racoon and mink take should remain constant with the 1971-72 figures.

Angelle, director said, the overall season for the trapper looks good. Additionally, racoon and opossum meat is in demand for human consumption this year due to the market prices for beef. Did you know that both Emmet Peterson and Duke Demoran were both trappers or bought pelts for the fur dealers. Ask them.

The following schedule is for the Sidelers Club until January 10th. Dec. 13, Regular Meeting, December 20, Wednesday, no meeting; Dec. 23, Saturday, Christmas Social, 8 p.m. Jan. 10, Wednesday, Regular meeting. If you are not a member, join, you'll like it.

Salt water fishing is just coming up. Fresh water fishing is a year round sport. Learn to fish you'll find out what you have been missing.

Hospital Auxiliary Holds Meeting

At the December meeting of Hancock General Hospital Women's Auxiliary reports were heard on two important events recently sponsored by the Auxiliary.

The annual reception for the members of the Licensed Practical Nurse's Class was given for graduates and their friends at the Bay Junior High school. Pink Ladies who acted as hostesses were Mrs. Cora Cee, Mrs. Elda Duke, Mrs. Clarence A. Evans and Mrs. Amanda Sylvester.

The Auxiliary's annual Awards Luncheon was held at Wheel Inn Restaurant this year. Rev. Charles Johnson of Christ Episcopal Church gave the invocation, and later spoke to the group on the work of the Hospital Board. Mrs. Mona Santiago, acting administrator of the Hospital gave awards to: Mrs. Margaret Lavoie, 100 hour pin; Mrs. Maurice George, 200 hour guard; Mrs. D. T. Mooney, 200 hour guard; Mrs. W. F. Phillips, 500 hour guard; Mrs. Elda Duke, 3000 hour pin. Mrs. McDowell, supervisor of nurses at the Hospital was also a guest at the luncheon. Auxiliary president, Mrs. Clarence Evans, concluded the program with a brief resume of the work for the past year.

Other business transacted at the meeting included the clarification of the jurisdiction of the Auxiliary's Loan Closet, which is still being handled by Mrs. Virginia Wagner.

Prior to the business meeting the members of the Auxiliary were shown a display of the handwork of members of the Recreation Group of the Senior Citizens' Club and Chat and Ceramic Clubs. Under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Keen, project director, the following ladies came to present their work: Mesdames Lucy Chatman, Mae Dever, Henrietta Edwards, Bettie Green, Louise Guma, Authalia Hall, Irene Moran, Vivian Singleton and Mary Smith.

Echoes

Mrs. James Laflitte entertained with a Christmas luncheon Monday at her Waveland home.

Arrangements of white and red poinsettia were used throughout the house. The table, overlaid with a linen cloth in Christmas motif, was centered with a miniature Christmas tree.

Guests were Mesdames Paul Samko, Jose B. Urbina, James Cousins and daughter Jeanne and Mrs. S. J. Paulina, all of Waveland.

Games were played and prizes went to Mrs. Urbina, Mrs. Cousins and Miss Jeanne Waterhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. McGuire and son Shannon of Metairie, La., visited over the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Breath Jr.

Capt. Ivan Bradford arrived Monday from Wood River, Ill., to spend the Christmas holidays at home with his family.

Miss Diane Presnell, who is on the nursing staff at Methodist Hospital, New Orleans, spent Monday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Elus Depreo. Recently visiting in the Depreo home were their son Gregory, a student at Samford University, Birmingham, Ala., and Miss Pam Collins of Orlando, Fla.

Harry Chapman and daughter Elizabeth of New Orleans were weekend guests of his mother Mrs. Henry Chapman. Mr. Chapman was over to attend Bay-Waveland Yacht Club's annual meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goellner and children Joey, Jeff and Becky of Gaudier, Miss., spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murtagh and family.

Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois is back home after a three-week visit with her sister Mrs. William Thurmon in Monroe, La.

Mrs. J. A. Evans Sr. has returned to Laurel, Miss., after a visit over the Thanksgiving holidays with her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pitcairn. While here they were joined for a visit by her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Evans Jr. and children Cathy, Tom and Scott of New Orleans.

USO Needs Desserts For Christmas Dinner

Citizens of the Gulf Coast who are planning their bake-off prior to the holiday season are asked to add another pie, or cake, or a batch of cookies for use at the Biloxi or Gulfport USO's announced John Rogalski, USO Council president.

In spite of the liberal pass policies over the holidays, the experience of Thanksgiving last month indicates that many young families will remain on the Coast over the holiday season. More than 90 military and dependents attended the Thanksgiving Buffet in Biloxi. "We hope to serve some 35 to 75 over Christmas, but we will allow for expansion to over 100 for there is no way of knowing how many will show up," added Sid Sicotte, USO executive.

About a dozen Allied students are also expected as they are also invited to attend the USO.

The traditional turkey, ham, condiments buffet will be served at both USO centers on the Coast, December 25 from 6 to 8 p.m. Any individual or group interested in helping with the usual dessert table are invited to do so or may call the USO for a specific dessert so a balanced table may be set.

"The USO wishes to thank all their Coast friends who contributed to the USO thru the United Funds of Harrison, Jackson, Hancock, and CFC campaigns, wishing all a happy holiday season," Rogalski concluded.

News From
Hancock General Hospital

Thursday night, December 14, District 5 American Nurses Assoc. will honor the senior citizens here in Hancock County with a Christmas party, at HGH complete with Santa, gifts, and Christmas carols.

Among the new employees this week are Mrs. Bourn, N.A. (Nursing), and Mark MacArthur, pharmacist.

The following is an original Christmas greeting coming to you a little early by way of O.R.:

May God who sent His only Son
as a gift to men on Earth
Bless each of you on the Day
That we celebrate His birth.
We wish you happiness, good health,
And lasting cheer.
And may your lives be richly blessed throughout the coming year.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Repairman vs. Homeowner

Homeowners with grievances against repairmen are no novelty. But repairmen too have their grievances. If a plumber or a roofer or an electrician causes an injury while working on your premises, you may well be held responsible in court.

In the lexicon of the law, a repairman is classified as a "business visitor." This means you owe a high degree of care for his safety. If he trips on a broken step or slips on a greasy floor, the fault and the cost is usually yours.

Take this case:

An absent-minded homeowner, backing his car out of the garage, knocked the ladder out from under a painter working on his chimney. When the painter fell, the ladder fell on the painter's head. The homeowner was held liable for damages, the court ordered the homeowner to pay up. This was no way, said the court, to treat a business visitor.

It is also true, of course, that the repairman himself has duties with regard to his safety. In particular, he should be alert to the kind of dangers that are common in his line of work.

A plasterer hired to patch a kitchen ceiling, had just gotten started when a chunk of plaster came crashing down on his head. He too tried to collect from the homeowner. But the court said this was the kind of danger a plasterer is supposed to foresee and avoid.

A similar ruling denied damages to a tree surgeon. Injured when a dead limb collapsed beneath his weight.

A repairman may also be held to have "assumed the risk" of an accident if he uses your premises in an unauthorized manner. For example:

A painter, refinishing a house, hung his scaffolding from a gutter without checking with the owner. While he was at work, the gutter suddenly pulled away from the wall, causing him to plunge to the ground.

But when the painter filed suit for damages, the court decided he had no claim. The judge said that by choosing such an unorthodox means of suspension, he had also chosen the risks that went with it.

Guns and Children

While preparing for a hunting trip, Hodges left his loaded rifle propped against the wall in the living room. His 11-year-old son carried the gun outside, showed it to a friend, and accidentally fired a bullet into the other boy's leg.

In short order, Hodges found himself facing a sizeable damage suit. At the trial, he protested that he had never given his son permission to handle the rifle.

But the court held him liable anyway. The court said he was guilty of negligence for leaving a dangerous weapon so easily accessible to a youngster.

Today, more than half of the nation's households have guns. Consequently, the chances of parental liability are at an all-time high. The law lays a heavy responsibility on adults to keep firearms out of immature hands.

In fact, many courts have been just as strict about BB guns, partly because they too can inflict injury and partly because they may be restricted by a local ordinance.

However, the less the danger the less the responsibility. On this ground, an injury caused by a child's toy bow and arrow was held not attributable to his parents. And in another case, parents were held not liable for their son's carelessness with a slingshot, a common plaything in the neighborhood.

Of course, almost any object can be used in a dangerous way if a child is so inclined. For example:

An 11-year-old boy picked up an old golf club which his father had left lying on the grass in their back yard. The boy swung it at a pebble, but instead struck a playmate in the club.

Clearly, the club had been turned into a dangerous weapon on this particular occasion. But a ruling that the father could not be blamed, since a golf club would not ordinarily fit that role.

It was the kind of misuse, said the court, that the father could not fairly be expected to foresee.

Theatre Presents 'The Moon Is Blue'

by Emily de Montezuma

A new star was born at the Little Theatre last week-end the moment Michael Reinkens Cueva breezed onstage as Patti O'Neal in "The Moon Is Blue". Her audience was instantly captivated, and as the play progressed it was obvious that she not only brought to her role a refreshing young talent but that she was giving an intelligent and endearing interpretation of the key character in the comedy. Her only previous experience amounted to very little... a role in the St. Joseph Academy production of "Quality Street" during her high school days and a part in "Ah, Wilderness!" at Gulf Park College... so her expertise in "The Moon Is Blue" must have been due to innate ability and good direction. The consensus in the audience was that in this young actress the Little Theatre had made an exciting discovery.

Directing the fast-paced F. Hugh Herbert comedy, a perennial favorite in community theatres across America, was Laurie Kiefer Byrd, whose play of last season, "The Velvet Glove", captured a "Louie" award through its leading lady, Frances Frankiewicz. The show was produced by Olive McKenna, who has directed, acted in, and produced so many plays in recent years at the theatre that there is no facet of its work with which she is not completely familiar. Playing opposite Michael was handsome Dan Griffin of

Pass Christian, offering the audience a solid, substantial foil to the quicksilver of Patti O'Neal. His own counterpart was played by Gary Byrd in the role of a roue whose scruples had long ago vanished but who, in spite of himself, was impressed by the essential innocence of the girl they so suddenly found in their lives. The cast was completed by Joseph Servat in a bit part made memorable by his convincing anger, the anger of a father who feels certain that his daughter has been compromised.

Technical problems of set construction, lighting, and sound were under Servat's charge also, and the New York apartment which served as the principal setting was elegantly furnished by Nancy Bailey with the help of Crosby Furniture Company. Ruth Furr, Linda Haas, Mary Carter, Victor Frankiewicz, Robb Sanford, and Bob Stroth formed the efficient set and back-stage crew. A particularly enjoyable aspect of the evening was the Christmas decoration of the lobby, directed by Jean Gleim. Refreshments were provided by Dorothy Martocchio. The third play of the current season will be directed by Mrs. Lloyd Griffith and Mrs. Helen King and is scheduled for March.

Vanilla Pudding Is Dessert Classic

Sometimes the simplest desserts have enduring flavor appeal. One that children like and that often remains a favorite, is the Fluffy Vanilla Pudding.

This pudding is really a variation of Blanc Manger. It differs from this classic "White Pudding" in that the hot cooked pudding mixture is folded into beaten egg whites before being stirred into pudding molds. This gives the pudding a fluffy light quality and texture.

Soft custard made from the egg yolks is good served with these pudding molds.

Fluffy Vanilla Pudding

1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup corn starch
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
2 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix together sugar, corn starch and salt in double boiler top. Gradually stir in milk. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. Cover and cook, stirring occasionally, 20 minutes. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form when beater is raised. Gradually fold corn starch mixture into egg whites. Stir in vanilla.

Pour into 4 (5-ounce) custard cups or small molds. Chill about 2 hours or until firm. Unmold and serve with custard sauce. Makes 4 (1/2-cup) servings.
